MI 3325 MultiServicerXD compatibility with complementary instruments / accessories

We are informing you that the current version of firmware (FW), installed on the MI 3325 MultiServicerXD does not support the new, but yet unannounced adapters, mentioned in the cover letter and newsletter. Those adapters are the MI 3143 Euro Z 440 V, MI 3144 Euro Z 800 V and A 1632 eMobility Analyser. That means that some of the presented testing and measuring functionalities are not yet available. We plan to release the new FW that will support them at the end of Q1 2019.

The aforementioned adapters (instruments) are already fully developed and will be formally announced soon as well.

Contact your designated area sales manager for more information about the exact date of the new FW release.
